This book is dedicated to my family: My wife Lisa, who has been unfailingly supportive and patient during the writing of this book, even during the most stressful of circumstances and largest of animal breakouts; my children, Robin, John and Will, who have invariably lifted my spirits when most needed; my parents, Charles and the late Mary Lucy Bass, whose love and advice have always been incomparable; and my brothers, Richard and B.J., who read almost as much as I did as children, and who have always encouraged me.
